

Celebration of Life

AT THE
KEDLESTON COUNTRY HOUSE

For many people a funeral is more than saying goodbye, it's also about celebrating a person's life and reminiscing on old times. Despite the sad circumstances, it's often a chance to get together and support one another.

Our professional events team are very understanding and are here to help you during this difficult time. We know it can be tough trying to gather family and friends, so let us ensure every aspect is taken care of with empathy and respect.

Our stunning countryside home makes the perfect backdrop for any occasion - large or small. With quintessentially English decor throughout, along with the panoramic views from our Orangery, it will certainly be a hit with your guests.

We have ample parking on-site, as well as disabled access directly to the Orangery.
